Disclaimer – Forward Looking Statement

Matters discussed in this presentation may constitute forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements concerning plans, objectives, goals, strategies, future events or performance, and underlying assumptions and other statements, which are other than statements of historical facts. The words "believe," "expect," "anticipate," "intends," "estimate," "forecast," "project," "will," "may," "should" and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements regarding: strategies, outlook and growth prospects; future plans and potential for future growth; liquidity, capital resources and capital expenditures; growth in demand for our products; economic outlook and industry trends; developments of our markets; the impact of regulatory initiatives; and the strength of our competitors.

The forward-looking statements in this presentation are based upon various assumptions, many of which are based, in turn, upon further assumptions, including without limitation, management's examination of historical operating trends, data contained in our records and other data available from third parties. Although we believe that these assumptions were reasonable when made, these assumptions are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies which are difficult or impossible to predict and are beyond our control and we may not achieve or accomplish these expectations, beliefs or projections. In addition, important factors that, in our view, could cause actual results to differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements include:

- changes in the balance of oil and gas supply and demand in Russia and Europe;
- the effects of domestic and international oil and gas price volatility and changes in regulatory conditions, including prices and taxes;
- the effects of competition in the domestic and export oil and gas markets;
- our ability to successfully implement any of our business strategies;
- the impact of our expansion on our revenue potential, cost basis and margins;
- our ability to produce target volumes in the face of restrictions on our access to transportation infrastructure;
- the effects of changes to our capital expenditure projections on the growth of our production;
- inherent uncertainties in interpreting geophysical data;
- commercial negotiations regarding oil and gas sales contracts;
- changes to project schedules and estimated completion dates;
- potentially lower production levels in the future than currently estimated by our management and/or independent petroleum reservoir engineers;
- our ability to service our existing indebtedness;
- our ability to fund our future operations and capital needs through borrowing or otherwise;
- our success in identifying and managing risks to our businesses;
- our ability to obtain necessary regulatory approvals for our businesses;
- the effects of changes to the Russian legal framework concerning currently held and any newly acquired oil and gas production licenses;
- changes in political, social, legal or economic conditions in Russia and the CIS;
- the effects of, and changes in, the policies of the government of the Russian Federation, including the President and his administration, the Prime Minister, the Cabinet and the Prosecutor General and his office;
- the effects of international political events;
- the effects of technological changes;
- the effects of changes in accounting standards or practices; and
- inflation, interest rate and exchange rate fluctuations.

This list of important factors is not exhaustive. When relying on forward-looking statements, you should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events, especially in light of the political, economic, social and legal environment in which we operate. Such forward-looking statements speak only as of the date on which they are made. Accordingly, we do not undertake any obligation to update or revise any of them, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. We do not make any representation, warranty or prediction that the results anticipated by such forward-looking statements will be achieved, and such forward-looking statements represent, in each case, only one of many possible scenarios and should not be viewed as the most likely or standard scenario.

The information and opinions contained in this document are provided as at the date of this presentation and are subject to change without notice. By participating in this presentation or by accepting any copy of this document, you agree to be bound by the foregoing limitations.

Operational Overview
The main factor positively impacting our production growth was the increase of natural gas production at Yamal LNG resulting from the start of LNG production at the second and third LNG trains of the LNG liquefaction plant in the second half of 2018. In addition, our production increased at the Beregovoye field due to the commissioning of new wells and at the Yarudeyskoye field as a result of natural gas treatment efficiency measures.

The increase was due to gas condensate production growth at Yamal LNG resulting from the launch of the second and third LNG trains of the LNG liquefaction plant in the second half of 2018 and the commencement of crude oil commercial production at the Yaro-Yakhinskoye field of Arcticgas in December 2018.

Due to an increase in LNG sales volumes, as well as an increase in sales prices in the Russian domestic market resulted in an increase in our aggregate average price by 20.9% and sales volumes by 23.9%.

Due to a decrease in the underlying benchmark prices excluding export duties.

Mainly due to changes in inventory balances.
Our total natural gas sales volumes increased by 3,615 mmcm, or 23.9%, due to increased sales of LNG.

Our liquids sales volumes decreased by 143 mt, or 3.3%, mainly due to changes in inventory balances that vary period-to-period depending on shipping schedules and final destinations of our liquid hydrocarbons shipments.

Our total operating expenses increased YoY by 16.2% to RR 157,507 million mainly due to an increase in volumes of LNG purchased from our joint venture Yamal LNG with the launch of LNG production at the second and third LNG trains in the second half of 2018, which in turn allowed us to earn higher revenues from hydrocarbons sales.
Due to a 7.0% increase in our natural gas sales volumes to our end-customers, for which we incurred transportation expenses.

Due to a 9.8% decrease in volumes sold and transported via rail. This was partially offset by an 8.1% increase in weighted average transportation cost per unit due to:
- a 3.56% increase in the regulated railroad transportation tariffs effective 1 January 2019
- the depreciation of RR average exchange rate relative to the USD since part of our transportation expenses by rail is USD denominated.

Due to an increase in our short-term vessels time charter expenses related to increased revenues from hydrocarbons transportation by tankers rendered to our joint ventures and third parties.
Our unified natural resources production tax expense increased by 10.4% mainly due to an increase in UPT rates for crude oil and gas condensate. The increase was mainly the result of changes in the UPT rates formulas effective 1 January 2019 caused by the completion of the tax maneuver in the oil and gas industry.

Mainly due to a decrease in current repair and maintenance works performed on wells and production facilities at our core production subsidiaries and the related decrease in materials used for repair works.

Increase due to:
- an indexation of base salaries effective from 1 July 2018;
- an increase in average number of employees, particularly, in our service subsidiary NOVATEK-Energo due to the expansion of its operations and servicing new assets;
- an increase in accrued provision for bonuses;
- the related increase in social contributions for medical and social insurance and to the Pension Fund.

Mainly due to a decrease in current repair and maintenance works performed on wells and production facilities at our core production subsidiaries and the related decrease in materials used for repair works.
General and Administrative Expenses (RR million)

- Employee compensation: Primarily due to a decrease in accrued provision for bonuses to key management and the related decrease in social contributions for medical and social insurance and to the Pension Fund of the Russian Federation.
- Legal, audit & consulting services: Mainly due to continued support of charities and social programs in the regions where we operate. Social expenses and compensatory payments fluctuate period-to-period depending on the implementation schedules of specific programs we support.
